

For Nonprofits, by Nonprofits.

Mike Anderson, The Seattle School of Theology & Psychology

Mike has served as Executive Vice President, Finance & Administration, for The Seattle School of Theology & Psychology (“The Seattle School” or “TSS”) since January 2020. The Seattle School is an interdisciplinary graduate school and seminary offering immersive, holistic graduate degree programs in counseling, psychology, divinity, theology, and culture. TSS trains practitioners to see the world through a threefold lens – text, soul, and culture – to serve God and neighbor through transforming relationships.

Mike has served as an Alternate Board member of the Non Profit Insurance Program (NPIP) since February 2021. In addition, Mike most recently served as the CFO (11-years) and Board director (7-years) for a multinational commodities supplier based in the Northwest. Mike also served on The Seattle School Board of Trustees for ten (10) years – two (2) years as Finance Committee Chair, and eight (8) years as Board Chair.

TSS has been a member of NPIP since 2016, and has seen significant growth in NPIP’s ability to provide risk management solutions to nonprofit organizations. Mike is very supportive of NPIP and their capacity to grow their service reach in the coming decade.